

ensembles

post:print · 01.05.22

Eva Vermeiren

"ensembles", designed by Eva Vermeiren and printed in our studio.

Artist: Eva Vermeiren

Type: 2 color screenprint + collage, mixed media

Dimensions: 36 x 51cm

Spec.: 300gr Arena Rough Fedrigoni

Edition:

25 unique pieces, signed on screenprint 'E.V 22'

signed on certificate with signature + stamp

4 artist editions, 2 publisher editions

Print Date: May 2022

When Eva Vermeiren is working, she is actually playing. When she's making decisions, she's doubting them. All the things she collects, she aims to redistribute again. Eva Vermeiren's artistic world is entirely hers and oozes a very personal aesthetic.

The works are always built on a balanced scale between rules and improvisation. Very often Eva creates a stage upon which different esthetical actions can take place. Collage is one of Vermeirens preferred media and for Studio Serieus she has made an edition of 25 different collages on silkscreen. A main raster has been screenprinted that serves as the background for different pieces of collage to walk on and off. Some of the snippets she collected many years ago and have become dear pieces to her. Others just kind of wandered in at the last second and were greeted as welcomed foreign guests.

Vermeiren is a very avid theater goer and in some way her works can be seen as little arena's where all of her actions, the stuff she collects, her movements and ideas and a bunch of coincidences take place and intertwine into one beautiful snapshot. When Eva Vermeiren is playing, she is working. When she's doubting, she's making decisions. By distributing, she collects.

About the artist:

Eva Vermeiren, born in 1989, lives in Ghent. As a child, the thing she enjoyed most about traveling was arranging her socks, pants and t-shirts in the hotel closet. She loves both quirky flowers and coincidence as well as series, enumerations and delineations. Her work often arises from self-imposed rules, for example by implementing a predetermined cutting method.